Joan Z. Calder

Award-winning Author and Speaker

About the Book

The delightful story of an imaginative young girl, Bonnie, who learns about the wonders of nature and the secrets of metamorphosis of two monarch butterflies. This award-winning book educates and entertains!

Joan's passion for monarch butterflies motivated her to write Airplanes in the Garden: Monarch Butterflies Take Flight to teach children and adults about the life cycle of the monarch butterfly. In addition to Bonnie's adventures, this book is filled with fascinating facts about monarch butterflies, tips on growing a butterfly-friendly garden, and maps of the amazing monarch migration.

"When I saw a small monarch caterpillar wiggling on a milkweed, I was curious where it would lead. Soon, others became curious too, and both adults and children would visit the garden to watch this wonder of nature. We found it exciting to see a tiny caterpillar grow up to become a 'tiger-like caterpillar'. Our excitement grew as it turned into a butterfly."

Interview Questions

1. What inspired you to write Airplanes in the Garden?
2. What makes this book different from other children's books?
3. The illustrations are unusual for a children's book. Can you tell me about them?
4. Your book includes a monarch fact section. Does this content cover Core Curriculum in science?
5. Why did you include a section on gardening?
6. Your book is about monarch butterflies. Why is this important?
7. For what age group is Airplanes in the Garden appropriate?
8. Would you tell me about the migration maps?

Champagne Lies

Genre: Mystery

Synopsis:

Champagne was going to help with their decisions. But it didn't. From San Francisco to Italy, Stacie can't figure out how and why things keep happening. Throw in a few murders, a secret vault, a husband she thought she knew, a mystery woman in Italy...and it all ends up in an Italian villa. With enough twists and turns to create some confusion, Stacie is positive she is done being surprised. But it is far from the end.

Rave Reviews:

"Champagne Lies is an exciting, fun read with twists and turns that keeps the reader guessing to the last page. Combining humor and adventure with secrets and lies, Ms. VanHatten deftly spins an intriguing tale that spans two continents as well as a thirty year marriage. I enjoyed every page." ~ Nancy C.

"Stacie can't figure out what's happening in her life. First, it's her husband, then it's the jewelry, finally it's the villa. Where did all of this come from and why are there so many people disappearing. Better yet...what do all of these dead people have to do with her?" ~ Mary B.

"Champagne, dead bodies, a Mexican beach, an Italian villa, and a husband she thought she knew...Stacie doesn't know which way to turn." ~ Cory G.

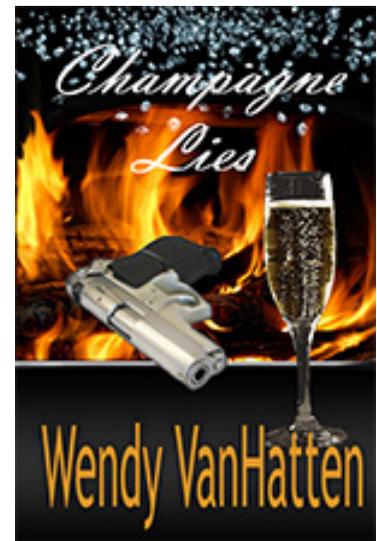

"Emeralds and diamonds and handguns...Oh My!" ~ Cindy C.

LOST in the DEEP WOODS

Synopsis

Hannah McLean races through the deep woods to meet her long lost brother, Seth. What is he hiding? Why doesn't he want to be seen? What bleak history is clouding his life? Then before Hannah can discover his dark deed, he's on the run again. When a stranger comes to town, Hannah rejects his intrusion and attentiveness. Is he looking for Seth? Why won't he just go away and leave her and her family alone?

Meanwhile, Seth drifts through the great forest and the logging camps of northern Michigan, trying to outrun his past. His fear and desolation drive him deeper and deeper into the remote timberland, while his loved ones try desperately to find him and save him from himself. Will Seth be on the run forever, or will the truth eventually catch up with him?

Review

“Footprints Under the Pines ended, leaving us wanting more. Lost in the Deep Woods, the second book by Dawn Batterbee Miller, successfully continues the saga. From the beginning to the unexpected conclusion, this book, too, will leave you waiting for more. Batterbee Miller is indeed a gifted weaver of tales. She will have your full attention as you find yourself searching the pines of the early lumbering community for the one lost soul who's only desire is to remain hidden.”

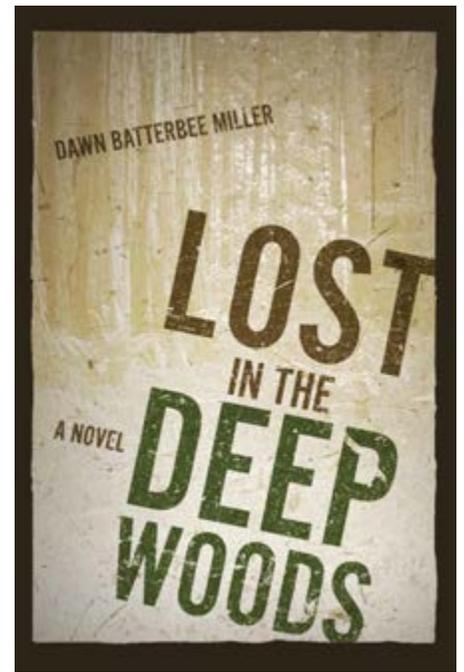

—Ginger Marks, CEO DocUmeant Designs

Bio

Dawn Batterbee Miller hales from Mancelona, Michigan, logging country. Suffering the loss of her mother to tuberculosis, she lived with twelve different families by age nine. She married early and dropped out of school but eventually received her GED, went to college, and received a Bachelor's and two Masters' Degrees. Ms. Miller reared five children and worked as an elementary and middle school teacher in Mason, Michigan for twenty-four years. She has authored God's Family Tree, published by Church Growth Institute, and numerous articles in well-known Christian periodicals. She is uniquely equipped to write about early lumbering culture due to her heritage in deep woods territory. For several years she served as author and publisher of Women in Ministry, a denominational Women's paper.

FOOTPRINTS Under the PINES

Synopsis

After great personal hardship Katherine Bains finds happiness in her marriage to Frank McLean, until fire destroys their home and takes the life of their infant son. Leaving a teenage son behind to help maintain the Grandparents' farm, Katherine, Frank and their two daughters must start over in lumberjack territory. Katherine had abandoned her faith in a God who would allow such devastation, but when catastrophe strikes again, she discovers she has never been alone. God's mercy is near, and help comes in unexpected ways.

The following is a letter I received from a reader in Sarasota FL, and is oft repeated. "I just finished reading Footprints Under the Pines and wanted to tell you how much I enjoyed it. It was a hard book to put down once I started. Spending some summer vacations in northern Michigan helped me visualize the landscape. The story was captivating. It would make a great movie!"

Review

Dr. Curtis Alexander, Associate Editor of the Missionary Church Today magazine writes,

"Miller's graphic depictions of life in northern Michigan's lumbering era make you almost wish you were there—until the tall load falls and everyone runs for their lives. Or someone is sick and the medical establishment has yet to be established. Or a little girl . . . oops, I'd better not go there. But you should, if a quiet evening, a good cup of coffee, and a heart-warming story are your cup of tea."

Steeped in true accounts of life in a lumber camp and the local lore of the lumberjack at her grandfather's knee, Dawn has infused Footprints under the Pines with rich detail and authenticity. This is no tall tale of Paul Bunyan."

Rave Reviews

"Forty years ago I received a book titled Tongue and Quill in the processing line of the US Air Force Academy. We were told anything we needed to know about effective communication was between its covers. It remains the definitive reference for USAF officers today. Loaded with wit, humor, and insight, No Fear Speaking challenges T&Q as the ultimate guide for speakers struggling to master the art of reaching an audience."

—David J. Scott, Major General (ret), USAF

"No Fear Speaking is a rare work on public speaking that is both readable and immediately useful. Yazbeck guides the reader, step by step, through the mechanics and dynamics of public speaking with clear, lean descriptions that not only convey the methodology but also the underlying logic with great insight. As someone who has worked in the high technology industry for over thirty years, this book taught me that public speaking and technical presentation is not an ancillary activity but a major essential to one's success."

BEVERLY MAHONE

BOOK RECAP

How to Get on the News Without Committing Murder is a resourceful guide to help baby boomers navigate their way towards creating the kind of business and professional image that will help them stand out in the social media NOISE and gain greater visibility.

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

1. The title of your book is very creative. How did you come up with it?
2. Why is your book targeted specifically for baby boomers?
3. What does it mean to "reinvent yourself"?
4. What, if anything, is the downside of reinventing yourself?
5. What has your own reinvention journey been like?
6. One of your chapters is titled "Use Age and Experience to Your Advantages", what does that mean specifically?
7. Your book offers 8 Killer Tips for a Positive Media Image. What do you say to your fellow boomers who say they really aren't interested in getting media coverage?
8. What do you say to the boomers who are reluctant to participate in social media?
9. In your book you say boomers shouldn't let technology stand in their way, but isn't it true that you haven't embraced it completely?
10. Are you suggesting in your book that getting media coverage should be the goal for everyone reinventing themselves?

BEVERLY SAYS ...

As a veteran journalist, Beverly Mahone knows first-hand what it takes to get noticed by the media. As a baby boomer, she's among those who've reinvented themselves. She says, "Many baby boomers, like me, are quickly finding out that the 'golden years of retirement,' as we once described them, no longer exist. Whether we leave the workforce voluntarily or are forced out because of technology or younger employees, we now find ourselves having to create an Act II before the curtain falls for the last time."

TESTIMONIAL

"As a former TV anchor and an accredited PR professional, this book gives readers smart tips to increase their visibility and credibility by working with the media THE RIGHT WAY. Beverly shares great ideas to show you how to take advantage of the assets you already have so you can step into the spotlight with ease and grace."

ALICE NEHME

A TESTIMONIAL OF INSANITY
The Journey Home

AUTHOR BIO

Alice Nehme, author of The World Has Lost Its Heart, was born on September 18, 1966 in Montreal, Quebec, Canada where she still resides.

She is of Lebanese origin and is fluent in five languages. She works as an assistant manager at the National Bank Financial Group and has been a professional skating instructor for 23 years.

She is also a member of Al-anon and a strong advocate against drug addiction.

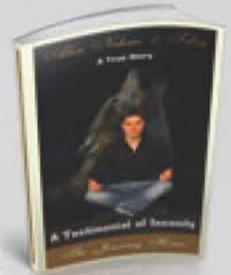

Nehme placed this vision into practice and followed her heart without being afraid to have a voice. Her sincerity spoke loudly and broke down the walls of fear around the people in her life. She earned being allowed and trusted, unconditionally, and without question. Ally, as she is fondly known by her friends, states, "The people that matter allowed me to be 'me' and show them that love truly wins."

BOOK RECAP

This is a true story of heroism and a combined effort of everyone involved. It is a story of hope and praying for a miracle; the miracle of a new found life. Tilou's journey inspired me to write his story. No human being could survive what he has endured and still be walking the earth. Not only has he survived, but his heart and soul remained pure. He loved the people around him and has finally reached the end of a dark road, finding the open arms of his family and friends. He cried out, "I need help and cannot do this alone."

PRAISE FOR A TESTIMONIAL OF INSANITY

A Testimonial of Insanity will touch your heart deeply while educating you on how addiction affects family and friends of someone suffering addiction. It takes you through the true story of an addicts life, the life of his very special friend and his family. You will feel every emotion as you read about the struggles of this young man's life in addiction. Alice is an amazing author, the story flows very nicely, I could not put the book down. I recommend Alice Nehme's book to everyone. It creates the awareness of addiction that is needed globally.

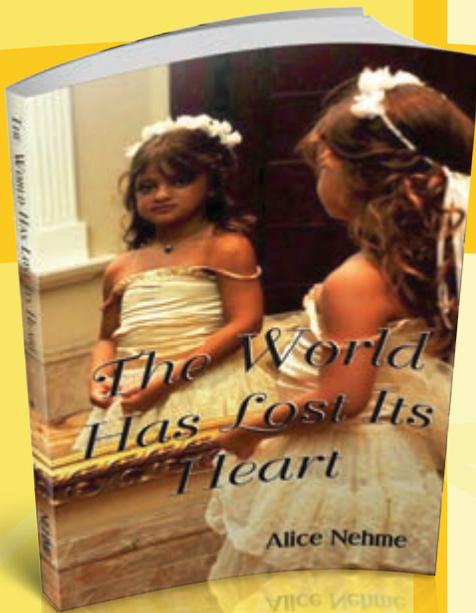

As a Rehab Placement Specialist I can certainly say this is a very rare book written with the honesty of what an addict will do for their next fix. - Brenda Herzog, Addiction Rehabilitation Placement Specialist

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

1. What does a drug addict look for?
2. Why are the people around them all co-dependants?
3. Why is this book different?
4. Where do we go for help?
5. What helps a drug addict find the path to recovery?
6. How do you see beyond the drugs to see the person for who they truly are?
7. Why is love the key to recovery?
8. How do you see addiction from new eyes?
9. What inspired you to write this book?

Alice's first creation, The World Has Lost Its Heart, comes from a place of authenticity and contribution. Join me in sharing this journey through life; a journey that brought us to where we are, and the steps we should take to reach our goals. Discover how to transform what society dictates as acceptable behaviour back to listening and following our hearts, to guide us to the truth within.

This book will channel you to a vision and a state of being that will bring you back to 'we' and away from 'me'. It will give you the strength to have a voice and find your truth and value. Never settle for what others 'will' you to be, but be who you 'will' yourself to be. This vision paves the way to those answers. WE are all born under love. Learn to recognize the exceptions in your life and let them in.

AUTHOR BIO

Alice Nehme was born on September 18, 1966 in Montreal, Quebec, Canada where she still resides.

She is of Lebanese origin and is fluent in five languages and works as an assistant manager at the National Bank Financial Group. She has been a professional skating instructor for 23 years.

Nehme placed this vision into practice and followed her heart without being afraid to have a voice. Her sincerity spoke loudly and broke down the walls of fear around the people in her life. She earned being allowed and trusted, unconditionally, and without question. Ally, as she is fondly known by her friends, states, "The people that matter allowed me to be 'me' and show them that love truly wins."

Running Dead

Genre: Mystery

Synopsis:

A GRISLY DISCOVERY, two men are murdered—gangland style—in an exclusive London hotel. The search for the killer propels Todd from London to the Riviera, to New York and the Cayman Islands. In every city his life is threatened. Someone seemingly knows his every move, before he makes it. Worse, on the cusp of a breakthrough, when he needs them most, The Yard seemingly withdraws support—leaving him hanging. Did they really want the case solved—or were they just Running Dead?

Rave Reviews:

"Filled with intrigue, twists and turns, you'll be captivated from the very start. Very rarely a book comes along that hooks you from the beginning, and holds you to the very end."

—Peggy McColl
New York Times Best-Selling Author

"For those who love a good mystery and intrigue —this is the book for you, it is an adventurous, nail-biting read, full of action, danger and conspiracy."

BOOK RECAP

Presentational Skills for the Next Generation covers a wide range of topics that presenters need to know. Some of the topics, such as organizing the content and working with audio-visual technology are rarely covered. The author's emphasis on rehearsing and considering the audience first are very valuable. You'll also find excellent coverage on the delivery aspect of presenting, including how to dress, what equipment to pack, dealing with fear, and much more.

This book is an exceptional resource that you will find yourself referring to time-and-again for every presentation you'll ever do.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

“Ginger Marks has codified a very workable system of materials to help anyone who desires to be an improved presenter. The skills of presentation could be said to be an artful science and Ginger represents this concept very effectively in her latest work. Presentation Skills for the Next Generation is a very valuable must read.”

Joe Yazbeck, Founder-President, Prestige Leader Development

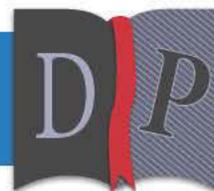

“As an author of PowerPoint book's Cutting Edge PowerPoint 2007 For Dummies, I find that this book complements mine.

I like this book because it's easy to read and packed with helpful stuff that will allow you to better plan your next presentation. It is a book that explains the concept of presentation delivery—and it does so in an easy-to-comprehend manner so that you can get results soon. It's also a very handy size—put it inside your laptop bag, and read it whenever you get the time, you won't regret it.”

Geetesh Bajaj www.cuttingedgeppt.com

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

1. Why a book on presentational skills?
2. What has changed in the way presentations are offered?
3. Why give a presentation in the first place?
4. Why do you need to consider your audience?
5. Are hand-outs a thing of the past?
6. What are the main ways of presenting information?
7. What is the best way to transition between thoughts/slides?
8. How are online presentations different than live?
9. What is the proper attire for a presenter?
10. What one tip could you give that will help us be better speakers?

The Pink Elephant ...in the Bedroom

Genre: Health & Wellness

Synopsis:

Every day millions of people tiptoe around the embarrassing and often humiliating subject of herpes. No one likes to talk about it, yet its prevalence is considered epidemic with up to 95% of adults exposed to some form of herpes virus. 'The Pink Elephant in the Bedroom' offers hope and empowerment, providing an oasis of information and practical ways to approach and manage herpes, including a natural and organic option that offers a powerful alternative to prescription medications, has no side effects, and helps boost your body's own natural immune response to lessen the effects of all viruses.

This book is about taking your life back! Millions of people suffer with—and have some degree of angst about—herpes. Yet, no one talks about it. This book offers a sense of hope and an oasis of information as how to live triumphantly in spite of it.

Influenced by her own struggle with the Epstein-Barr virus, far from settling for simply enduring any herpes virus, JulieAnn's goal is to make a difference for people who dare to believe in possibilities and step out to find them.

About the Author

JulieAnn has over 25 years of experience in pharmaceuticals, medical marketing and integrative health practices. Her expertise is in helping people with chronic viral infections like herpes and hepatitis C, as well as, those with chronic pain, cancer, MS, Parkinson's disease, and rheumatoid arthritis.
